Whit Davis Lumber Plus Gives Back

Whit Davis Lumber Plus headquartered in Jacksonville recently made donations to five local charities. Whit Davis Lumber gives annually to the Jacksonville Senior Center, the Jacksonville Care Channel, the Jacksonville Boys and Girls Club, United Way and American Red Cross.

“We’ve been in the Jacksonville community for over 50 years and realize the importance of giving back,” said Whit Davis Lumber President Terry Toney. “These organizations do an excellent job of meeting the needs of several local citizens and we’re proud to donate to their cause.”

The Jacksonville Senior Center has many activities for senior citizens to participate in and get active. They also offer Meals on Wheels to elderly shut-ins. The Jacksonville Care Channel’s purpose is to feed and clothe the needy. The Jacksonville Boys and Girls Club offers programs and services that promote and enhance the development of boys and girls by instilling a sense of competence, usefulness, belonging and influence. Heart of Arkansas United Way supports health and human services organizations in Central Arkansas, and partners with local agencies on special projects and programs that benefit our community. Among other things, American Red Cross chapters provide locally relevant humanitarian services that help targeted groups within the community be safer, healthier and more self-reliant.

Whit Davis Lumber is a family-owned and operated company with locations in Jacksonville, Cabot, and Greenbrier. The company serves retail customers and contractors in the Central Arkansas area.
